

UpdateStar Product Key Finder 8 finds software licenses

UpdateStar Product Key Finder 8 is the latest version upgrade in the portfolio of products of Berlin-based UpdateStar. Because losing important license information is an annoying experience, Product Key Finder helps users to find and safeguard licenses and activation keys. Thanks to the enhanced scan and analysis methods of the new version, it now finds license information for more than 6,500 software products.

Berlin, May 30, 2014 – UpdateStar, a leading German software product and services provider with more than 10 million monthly users, announces the release of UpdateStar Product Key Finder 8. The new version offers enhanced scanning methods and supports 6,500 software products.

Product Key Finder lets users find and export software licenses stored and hidden on their local or network computers. The software's database now supports more than 6,500 products. Product Key Finder can be used in case of a license loss emergency as well as for reasons of precaution to prevent a license loss before it happens. Users can export or print the results from within Product Key Finder and store these in a safe place for backup reasons.

Because losing license information of software products is an annoying and expensive experience, home users as well as corporate administrators can highly profit from the service Product Key Finder provides.
